The Union Press and Journal both ssert that Governor Robinson prescribed ie oath that appears lu Governor Bramette's proclamation. The latter thought so, for he says so; but Governor Robinon prescribed no oath in his proclamation, according to our recollection. The lmportant part of the matter is not whether Gov. Robinson prescribed this oath or not, but in the fact that there is a part of this prescribed oath not in the law. This clause has no business there. These Governors have no right to make laws or add to them, or to require of a voter to swear Our recollection is, that he gave no form what the law does not require. Usnrpations of power are so common now that the law, and called the attention of the even State Executives begin to think they can make law. It is no matter what this "intending" to join the Confederate forces means, it is enough that it is not in the law, and, therefore, has no business in the oath. The Journal, as usual, can't omit to warn and threaten. He shakes his mighty rod in the face of the armed assertion of a distinct nat aftive, probably before Christmas. This is certain unless the course of events is arrested by some prompt and decided action on the part of the people and the Legislature of the Northern States. The other slave States will follow South Carolina in slave States will follow South Carolina in a few weeks or months. The border States, now so devoted to the Union, will linger a little while, but they will soon unite their fortunes with those of their Southern slsters. Conservative men have now no ground to stand upon—no weapons to battle with. All has been swept from them by the guilty agitations and Infamous legislation of the North. I do not anticipate, with any confidence, that the North will act up to the solenn responsibilities of the crisis by retracing those bilities of the crisis by retracing those sibilities of the crisis by retracing those fatal steps which have conducted us to the very brluk of perhition, politically, morally and financially.

There is a feeling growing in the free States which says, "Let the South go!" and this feeling threatens rapidly to increase. It is in part the fruit of complete estrangement, and in part a weariness of this perpetual routliet between North and South which has now lasted, with increasing bitterness, for the last thirty years. The country wants repose and is willing country wants repose and is willing to purchase it at any sacrines. Alas, for the delimination of the belief that repose will follow the overthrow of the Government. I doubt not, from the temper of the pub-lic mind, that the Southern States will be illowed to withdraw peacefully; but when the work of dismemberment begins re shall break up the tragments, from nouth to month, with the nonchalmee vith which we break the bread upon our reakfast table. If all the grave und through these fragments of the ruptured republic can be adjusted without resort to arms, then we have made vast progress since the history of our race was written. But the tragic events of the hour will show that we have made no progress at ll. We shall soon grow up a race o hieftains who will rival the political bar eses of the people dream not of these suppose the Republic can stroyed to-day and peace will smile its ruins to-morrow. They know-ng of civil war. This marah in the of the pilgrinnage of nations has ly been for them a scaled fountain. They know not, as others do, of its hittert with anguish. They are to be com-crated for they know not what they Whence is all this? It has come be-

do. Whence is all this? It has come because the pulpit and the press, and the cowering, insernpulous politicians of the North have taught the people that they are responsible for the domestic institutions of the South, and thet they can be faithful to too only by being infaithful to the compact which they have made with their fellow-ruen. Hence those Liberts hills which described the second of the second ree and sovereign States, by a solemn et of legislation, legalizing the theft of their able crime chances to be a sinve serpetual agitation of the slavery ques-ions which has veached the minds of the lave population of the South, and has ren-lered every home in that distracted land ascenre. This is the feature of the irreible conflict with which the Northern ople are not familiar. In almost every art of the South miscreant functies have seen found and poisonings and conflagra-ion lawe marked their footsteps. Moth-rs there lay down at night trembling beide their children, and wives cling to their uislands as they leave their homes in the morning. I have a brother residing in Mississippi, who is a lawyer by profes-sion and a cotton planter, but has never had any connection with polities. Knowcalm and conservative tone of his gracter, I wrote him, a few weeks since. and implored him to exert his inthren machinations of the wrethes to whom I have alluded, and the consternation which reigns in the homes of the South, he says it is the malterable determination of the Southern people to overthrow the Government, as the only reings which is left to them. Contact the same for the sa eft to them from these insupportable groups, and he udds—"on the success of this movement depends my rvery earthly interest—the safety of my roof from the irebrand, and of my wife and children from the poison and the dagger."

I give you his language because It ruthfully expresses the Sonthern mind, which at this movement. which at this moment glows as a furnace in its hatred to the North because of these infernal agitations. Think you that any people can endure this condition of things? When the Northern preacher Infuses into is audience the spirit of assassins and incendiaries in his crusado against shavery, does he thluk, as he lies quietly down at night, of the Southern homes he has robbed of sleep and of the help less women and chil-dren he has exposed to all the nameless corrors of servile Insurrections?

I am still for the Union because I have ret u faint hesitating hope that the North will do justice to the South and save the Roughly hefe to the South and save the before the wreck is complete, it action, to be available, must be prompt the free States will sweep the liberty stills from their codes, propose a conven-tion of the States and offer guarantees which will afford the same repose and safety to Southern homes and property en-oyed by those of the North, the Impending tragedy may yet be averted, but not otherwise. I feel upositive personal humiliation, us a member of the human family, in the events now preparing. If the Republic is to be offered as a sacrifice upon the altury of African way titude, then the the altar of African servitude, then the mestion of man's capacity for self-government is forever settled. The derision of the world will henceforth justly treat the pretension as a farce, and the blessed hope which, for five thousand years, our race, amid storms und battles, has been higging to its bosom, will be demon-strated to be a phantom and a dreum. words. A good deal of tromble, it appears, is occasioned between the New York merchants and Collector Draper by the arbitrary regulation which compels every article of merchandise from the South to be weighed, inspected and carted by customhouse officials. The cartuge is regarded as unnecessary, the whole system being without the authority of law, presenting the practical result of imposing a New York tariff on goods from other states. These regulations are londly complained of from all quarters, and very curious suggestions are current as to the disposition made of the vast sums realized from these exactions.

war has been settled there have been a eat many destructive storms and tornaes throughout the country, attended with heavy rains. And there have been me very curious freaks of lightning in ie instances causing death and destruction; but in most cases, singular freaks were accomplished, and some very parrow escapes made. Several storms have prevailed in this neighborhood recently, and several houses have been by lightning. On Thursday a heavy rainstorm came up, attended by quick flashes of lightning and sudden thunder, preceded by a quick, keen seated at a sewing machine, was thrown udden shock. In fact, every one in the building was stunned. The house was tilled with smoke, and it is said small balls of fire were seen to fall from the roof upon the ground at the time of the shock. While this is one of the most singular freaks of lightning we ever heard of, we are happy to state no one was hurt.

By Last Evening's Mails! THE CURRENT NEWS!

The Missonri Republican learns from Maj. Gen. Herron, who has just returned from Shreveport, La., that instead of the seven or eight thousand Missourious who are said to have accompanied Shelby beyond the Rlo Grande, that officer was followed, it seems, by a scanty band of two humbred. Their purpose, as well as their leader's was to join, not Maximilian, as hus been reported, but Juarez and the liberal cause, Other parties of rebels who imitated Shelby-Missourians and men from secoded Stateswill not exceed a few hundred in number. ull told. Like the former, they designed to east their swords into the scale against Maximilian, and the French and Austrian contingents by whom he is supported, This, he says, is the purpose of all rebels who have sought or may seek a hand la the utilitary affairs of Mexico, Their motive in siding with the liberal party is me of resentment toward Louis Napoon, who so grievensly disappointed their lupes of intervention against the United States, in the contest from which they have just emerged. A partial revenge they now think, is attainable by expelling his protege from Mexican soil, and they will do their best to bring about such a result. Others upon whom this motive did not operate, expressed a willingness n go, out of pure regard for the Mouroe etrine, and thought that all Interlopers upon American soil aught to be driven off. OFFICE OF THE LOUISVILLE DEMOCRAT, FRIDAY EVENING, July 20th, 1865. The navices from the East yesterday quoted a still further advance in flour, which had the effect to cause the market here to become more excited, and holders were demanding a still further advance; and, in fact, some of them were refusing it sell at any price. The advance in New York was 10 to 25c, while here it was fully 50c. The advance here is said by some to be entirely speculative, but by others is said to be caused by the great damage one to the crops of small grain thronghout the mutry. We notice in our exchanges that the grain country. We notice in our exchanges that the gral cop has been greatly damaged by the rains whic have occurred almost daily, and the exce hot weather which immediately follows. The dam age is not only to the wheat, but also to the out an cornerops, and, until a thorough statement of the condition of the crops is made, it is almost impossible for us to form any idea of the extent to wh learned, and the market will be more settled, but tions. We give the following from the nillers, which, to a certain extent, must be considered nominal: Superfine 825, plain extra $0.000 25, and extra family $9.75(10.50, axthe sales are confined attrely in the immediate wants of the here is little or no wheat arriving, which causes a market for it to be also much insettled, and had little arrives meets with a sale at any price, so at our quotations are really above the due. Red and white wheat are quoted at $t re farmers from bringing their crops to the mai et, and the extent of the damage may be exagge god. We have no change to note in corn nigh ($ $1 (0).
